Plight of the South Blamed on Freight Rates, High Tariff

National Emergency Council's Report Says Industry Has Been Penalized for Being in Rural Section

Not Easy to Solve

Report Pictures 13-State Area Rich in Resources, Manpower but Poverty-Ridden

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—The National Emergency Council blamed disadvantageous freight rates and high tariffs today for much of the failure of the south to keep abreast of the rest of the country economically.

"On the one hand," the council asserted, "the freight rates have hampered its industry; on the other hand, our high tariff has subsidized industry in other sections of the country at the expense of the south."

"Penalized for being rural, and handicapped in its efforts to industrialize, the economic life of the south has been squeezed to a point where the purchasing power of the southern people does not provide an adequate market for its own industries nor an attractive market for those of the rest of the country."

The statements were contained in a 60-page report which the council compiled at the request of President Roosevelt, who declared recently that southern conditions constitute "the nations No. 1 economic problem."

It was made available to Mr. Roosevelt before it was released for general publication. The Chief Executive referred to it in his speech at Barnesville, Ga., Thursday.

No Simple Answer

There is, he said, "no one simple answer" to questions of what can be done to improve conditions in the south although "it is true that many obvious needs ought to be attained quickly—such as the reduction of discriminatory freight rates, such as putting a floor under industrial wages, such as continuing to raise the purchasing power of the farm population."

In transmitting the report to the President, Lowell Mellett, NEC director, said that "one thing appears to be made clear when the principal difficulties faced by the south are brought into perspective... that is that the economic problems of the south are not beyond the power of men to solve."

"Another thing made clear, however, is that there is no simple solution," he added.

In those states, the report said, the people are hampered in their efforts to progress not only by an unfavorable freight rate differential of approximately 30 per cent and by the tariff walls but also by absentee ownership of industry and high credit costs.

Other factors discussed included uneconomic farming methods, ill health, and housing conditions so bad that 4,000,000 families, half of all in the south, "should be rehoused."

To illustrate the south's comparative lack of money wealth, the report said the average income there in 1937 was $314 while it was $604 in the rest of the country.

Citing the sharecropping system as one of the defects of the agricultural economy, the report said there were 1,331,000 tenant families in the area.

More than a third of these, it said, move every year and most hold tenure only by spoken agreement. The report added:

"Under these circumstances the tenant has no incentive to protect the soil, plant cover crops, or keep buildings in repair. On the contrary, he has every reason to mine the soil for every possible penny of immediate cash return."

Merchants Combine Sales-Jobs Drive With Dollar Day August 17

Du Pont Tomb

This 210-foot carillon tower costing $400,000, nearing completion at Wilmington, Del., will hold the body of the late Alfred I. du Pont and perhaps that of his faithful mongrel dog, Yip, now buried beside his master in a secluded spot on his old estate.

Biggest Sales Event of Year Takes on 'Consumer-Aid' Role for Wednesday—Five Counties Are Solicited

"Sales Mean Jobs" and Kingston merchants have been paying the way for some time for one of the biggest sales ever held in Kingston. The sale is the annual August Dollar Day which in the past has been one of the outstanding events of the city's business life and which the merchants have determined this year to make even bigger than in the past. Wednesday, August 17, is the day set for the event.

"Dollar Day has always been a big event in Kingston with marvelous values, but this year we are trying our annual Dollar Day Sale in with the 'Sales Mean Jobs' campaign and I personally know that many of the merchants will be offering even far greater values than ever before," said President James Rowe in discussing plans for the Dollar Day Sale.

"In some instances $4 and $5 values will be offered for a dollar and as a general rule, shoppers will find that the dollar will go two or three times as far as usual," said Mr. Rowe in discussing the sales features which merchants are offering through the medium of advertisements.

Busy for Weeks

For several weeks the merchants have been planning for the Dollar Day Sale. The Kingston Business Men's Association, weeks ago, laid plans for the biggest sales event of the year and it is expected that this year's sale will be the biggest Dollar Day ever held with every merchant attempting to give the ultimate in value for a dollar.

Kingston has long been noted for the exceptional Dollar Day sales which are held each year and which their August Dollar Day next Wednesday being tied up with their "Sales Mean Jobs" campaign every effort will be made to give record bargains to a record breaking crowd.

Wednesday, August 17, should bring out one of the biggest crowds ever to attend a local Dollar Day Sale for the sale has been advertised throughout not only Ulster county but Greene, Delaware, Sullivan and Orange counties. Banners have been erected at the main entrances to Kingston and practically every merchant in the city has carried on a special advertising campaign to carry to the public a few of the leading bargain items to be offered.

Details Monday

More complete details of values will be found in the advertisements which will appear in local papers on Monday. In addition to these advertised bargains there will be many more which space will not permit to be displayed. Kingston Merchants' August Dollar Day Sale on Wednesday will not be confined to any one locality, to any one store or to any single line of merchandise. Items for a dollar will be featured but those merchants who handle merchandise of higher prices will be offering special prices to Dollar Day shoppers. Large items as well as the smaller low priced items will be priced specially for the one day sale.

In order to care for an expected record crowd stores will have extra help showing that they are behind the "Sales Mean Jobs" campaign which is being carried on. Then, too, the Dollar Day shopper will find better service and ample salespeople to give prompt attention to the buying public.

Free parking will be in effect at both of the public parking grounds and ample space will be provided for 1,500 cars. There will be the John street parking grounds adjacent to the court house and the larger parking area at the rear of the Montgomery Ward Company store. Entrance is off Fair street.

NAZI CALL FOR MILLION TROOPS THROWS EUROPE IN WAR PANIC

Frey Would Give Evidence Lewis Endorsed by Reds

Washington, August 13 (AP)—John P. Frey, American Federation of Labor official, told the House committee investigating un-American activities today he would offer evidence that John L. Lewis and his committee for industrial organization "have been officially endorsed" by the Communist party.

The A. F. of L. spokesman testified he would prove "the Communist party in the United States completely scrapped its program in 1935 so that it could secure a controlling position within the C. I. O."

The party made no headway in this country, Fred said, until the C. I. O. was organized, but since then Communism "has become a definite factor in the American labor movement."

Frey had four prepared statements as he began his testimony. He asserted he would identify presidents and officers of national C. I. O. Unions who were members of the Communist party.

Bears Raid Apple Orchards, Farmer Appeals for Help

Frank Augustine of Manorville in the town of Saugerties, was in Saugerties Friday seeking information from Town Clerk John Weinand as to what course to pursue to rid him of the raids being made on his apple orchard by bears.

Mr. Augustine lives at the foot of the mountains. He said that bears, forced through hunger to come down from the mountains, have been causing considerable damage to apple orchards and other property near the foothills in the town of Saugerties the past few weeks.

Game Warden Fred DeWitt of this city was rotten in touch with the situation explained to him and a warden was sent to the Augustine farm to view the damage. A permit, it was said by Mr. DeWitt, would be issued to Mr. Augustine to rid his place of the bears after the findings of the warden were reported. This is necessary as the law now protects the bears.

FDR Back Home From Fishing Trip

Back in Washington from a lengthy trip featured by political speeches on land and deep-sea fishing on water, President Roosevelt is shown with Secretary of War Henry Stimson, who met him at the Union Station. McIntyre remained in the capital during his chief's absence.

Nazis' Plan to Stage Vast War Maneuvers Spread Fear From Berlin to Balkans

Takes All Grain

(By The Associated Press)

Tense feeling among Europe's major powers spread fear and alarm today from Great Britain to the Balkans.

Germany hastened preparations for vast army maneuvers next month, calling up reserve units which have not engaged in such exercises since the World War. The Nazi government decreed the requisitioning of grain storage places and imprisonment for anyone disclosing industrial secrets to foreigners.

Among many disquieting rumors in Paris were reports Germany was calling 1,000,000 reservists to the colors and was hastening fortifications on her French and Polish borders.

The French government ordered her diplomats abroad to report on the German preparations. Government sources in London, however, discounted German warlike intentions and pointed out no attempt had been made to conceal the war games' great scope.

Inhabitants of the area on both sides of the German-Czechoslovak frontier were apprehensive. The price of gold soared. The demand for gold mirrored the tension as buyers sought utmost security for their wealth.

Frontier Closed

The French-Italian frontier was virtually closed to citizens of the two countries. France, in quick retaliation for Italy's suspension of delivery of passports for travel in France, ordered regulations in effect at noon today virtually prohibiting the French from visiting Italy.

At Bucharest, Rumania, King Carol today signed a law which divides Rumania into ten provinces, or states, replacing more than 72 districts as administrative units.

The government said the purpose was to bring about closer association of Rumanians of various origins.

An encounter between three Japanese and United States Marines in Shanghai marked widespread disorders there on the first anniversary of the outbreak of Chinese-Japanese hostilities in the Shanghai area.

Three Japanese, brandishing pistols, defied a United States Marine's orders in the American defense sector of the international settlement and trained their weapons on him. When another Marine appeared with an automatic rifle, the Japanese surrendered their guns and were taken to an international settlement police station.

Another week passed without material change in the battlefront on the Yangtze river. Hankow, China's provisional capital, was subject to its second mass raid within 24 hours.

In Spain, a violent battle raged in the southwest. Insurgents reported capture of Casaca del Burey, key to the government's mercury mines, but the government insisted its militia was holding out.

The insurgent advance in Estremadura created the only important change of the week in Spain's war maps. The insurgents rolled back the northern wing of the government's offensive in southern Catalonia, fighting in western Catalonia seemed and the insurgent campaign against Valencia marked time.

The Japanese war office announced Soviet Russian and Japanese military representatives had signed a memorandum securing the armistice on the Siberian-Manchoukuo frontier.

Ulster Mineral Survey Needed, Resident Insists

The question of whether or not the mineral deposits of Ulster county might not be a valuable asset to the county's industrial activities was raised a few days ago by a resident of Kingston who has had wide experience in the study of natural deposits.

"Much money is being spent to advertise our industrial facilities but little is being done to ascertain whether some of the county's natural deposits might not form an important industry, if analysis were made and were available when some concern was found seeking such materials," said the local man.

He pointed out that rock wool, a modern insulating material, was manufactured from certain kinds of material which were to be found locally. In the manufacture of glass, silica was used and it was his belief that in the county there were unlimited deposits of silica which might form a basis for a local industry or be shipped to points where it could be used. Natural cement rock also prevails.

He suggested that analysis of these materials should be made by competent men and such analysis on hand to answer any query which might be received as to the county's available supply of minerals. The suggestion came following a conversation with a man who is closely connected with a glass industry and who has material for that industry at one of his plants. Material was being shipped in to supply the demand and it was suggested that perhaps the unlimited quantity of Shawangunk grit here might be a source of supply.

"If the city or county had an analysis made to supply to such firms, we might develop in the county a very valuable industry. This is also true of other natural deposits of the county," he concluded.

Pilots Shot Down

Madrid, Aug. 13 (AP)—Pilots of 12 government planes were reported today to have shot down four of an armada of 37 insurgent planes in an air battle in southwestern Spain, near the Cabeza del Buey front. Twelve government pursuit planes, the advances said, encountered 12 insurgent bombers and 25 insurgent pursuit craft.

Plague of Hoppers

Watertown, N. Y., August 13 (AP)—Jefferson county farmers organized today to combat a plague of grasshoppers which threatened to destroy their crops. Oscar W. Sellers, county farm bureau agent, characterized the situation as the worst in 30 years.

Flying Fish Through Port

Columbia, S. C., August 13 (AP)—Rounding Cape Hatteras on a recent voyage, T. B. Taylor opened the port of his cabin boat, as he turned away he heard a flopping sound and beheld an 18-inch flying fish on the sofa.

Roosevelt Speaks On Radio Monday

Washington, August 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt's decision to make a nation-wide broadcast Monday—the third anniversary of the social security act—stirred speculation today as to whether he would use the occasion to press his campaign against re-election of Congressman not meeting his standards of "liberalism."

Aides said the speech would be addressed primarily to a banquet of social security employees. Mr. Roosevelt will speak from the White House, beginning at 9:30 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time), for 15 minutes.

The social security act, however, is the keystone of the President's social reform program. Under the circumstances, politicians here wondered whether Mr. Roosevelt might not see fit to restate some of his aims for the future and to call again, as he did in his recent fireside chat, for election of Congressmen who would support them.

There was speculation, too, in view of his outright action in asking for defeat of Senator George (D-Ga.), as to whether he would call names.

In this connection, it was recalled that in the Maryland primary Rep. David J. Lewis, who is campaigning as a wholehearted Roosevelt supporter, has made an issue of Senator Millard Tydings' vote of "present" when the social security act was passed by the Senate.

Carroll Is Given Life Sentence

South Paris, Me., Aug. 13 (AP)—A guilty verdict returned after five and a half hours' deliberation sent Former Deputy Sheriff Francis M. Carroll to state prison for life today, to a cell under the same roof with his chief accuser, Paul N. Dwyer, 19, who swore he accepted a life sentence for a murder Carroll committed because he feared Carroll's "vengeance."

The 43-year-old ousted peace officer, a war veteran and father of five children, was convicted by an all-male jury last night of the strangulation murder of Dr. James C. Littlefield, 67. He was sentenced immediately to serve a life term, mandatory under Maine law.

Carroll, white-faced in contrast to his usual phlegmatic demeanor during the trial, protested he was innocent.

It was the same courtroom in which Dwyer pleaded guilty and received a life sentence last December for the same crime. Dwyer repudiated previous "confessions" at Carroll's trial and swore he saw the deputy throttle the doctor in Dwyer's home last October 13.

When, and whether, an attempt would be made to get an executive pardon for Dwyer—his only hope of freedom—remained in doubt. Said E. Walker Abbott, who represented him last December, "when the proper time comes, I'll take care of Paul Dwyer."

Prison Warden John H. Welch said Dwyer made no mention of a pardon when he received news of the verdict.

New Section of Lights On Broadway Put Into Use on Friday Evening

The upper half of the new Broadway street lighting system, extending from Albany avenue to the Broadway crossing, was turned on for the first time last night, and it is planned, weather conditions permitting, to turn on the lights on the lower half, extending from the railroad crossing to the Strand early next week.

The new system of lights installed along Broadway is similar to the installations made in the uptown and downtown business districts, and when the Broadway lights are finally turned on, the city will have one of the best lighted main thoroughfares of any city in the state.

At the meeting of the Board of Public Works earlier in the week officials of the electric corporation assured the board that it was planned to turn on the upper half of the new Broadway street lights Friday evening, and that it was planned also to have the lower half ready by Tuesday evening, weather conditions permitting.

Crews of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. have been busy for some time stringing the wires and installing the new lighting fixtures. The poles that carry the new lights were positioned by employees of the public works board.

Last night with the new system turned on Broadway, between the crossing and Albany avenue, the street was brightly lit. The new lights have been installed so as to distribute the light more evenly, and the new system has been designed to furnish the same amount of light for the entire length of the thoroughfare.

Central Hudson Razes Old Houses On Cedar Street

The Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation is making improvements to its property bordering Cedar street, by demolishing two of the old houses which have graced that street for some time. Having outlived their usefulness and being no longer available for desirable tenants, the two houses are being torn down.

One located adjacent to the Broadway Theatre and the other at the corner of Martin's Lane, which is used as an entrance to the Central Hudson's Broadway property, will be razed and the grounds graded and improved. The properties being torn down are located at 27 and 33 Cedar street. Both premises have been owned by the Central Hudson Corporation for several years and were rented until their condition became such that desirable tenants could no longer be secured.

Local Legionnaire Derides Cross as Perfect Dictator

Jack Rabin, local veteran and a Legion past vice-commander, today bitterly denounced the action of State Legion Commander Jeremiah F. Cross, in the latter's refusal to allow Mayor LaGuardia the privilege of speaking at the state convention of the Legionnaires.

"Like a perfect dictator, just as I am the law Mayor Hague, of Jersey City," said Mr. Rabin, "does our commander declare before the opening of the Legion State Convention at Endicott—I am the only one with power to give him (Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York City) the convention floor and I shall not do so."

"Mayor LaGuardia, himself a World War veteran and ardent Legionnaire, gained the disfavor of the State Legion commander because he refused to govern Simon W. Gerson from a government post of the Borough of Manhattan," continued Mr. Rabin. "America is still a melting pot of citizenship, said Past National Commander Harry W. Colmery, and there should be therefore no alien-baiting.

"Not so long ago Commander Cross developed his precious little scheme to mobilize Legionnaires for emergency action. Addressing a meeting at Flushing, he gave away his vigilante aims by speaking of the need for storm troops to recapture the government."

"On April 28, 1938, our present National Legion Commander, Daniel J. Doherty, found it necessary to call Commander Cross to task, saying, 'Statements of this nature are not in harmony with the program of the American Legion and in my judgement are highly intemperate—As a department commander you are circumscribed in what you may say by what the organization has given you authority to speak on—'

"In Kingston and in Ulster county, Commander Cross mobilization plan failed to survive because of the courage and strength of conviction on the part of Legionnaire Harry R. Karnaghan, who was charged with the task of mobilization. Through a series of correspondence between Mr. Karnaghan and Commander Cross the mobilization plan showed itself of unsound methods of reasoning.

"Roy Monaghan, state commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War and Chairman of the legal committee of the American Legion, New York county, declared in a statement to the New York Times of March 9, 1938, on page 16, that he had refused to subscribe to the petition to remove Gerson from office, and that he had refused to go on the expedition to Albany."

"It is the tactless action of just such self-centered Legionnaires that drag down the good name of the Legion into the mire and nullify all the fine accomplishments so laboriously attained."

"Many are the Legionnaires who will be glad indeed to have Commander Cross sink into the oblivion of past commandship," Mr. Rabin concluded.

State American Legion Convention turned today to the election of officers after designating Albany as the site of the 1939 gathering. The Associated Press says.

Balloting was scheduled as the final event of the three-day session, which reached its high point yesterday with a parade in which an estimated 35,000 persons marched.

As a prelude to election of a new state commander to succeed Jeremiah F. Cross, the "40 and 80" Society, a Legion affiliate, unanimously named Walter O. Peterson of Brooklyn Chief De Garre.

Unopposed nomination of Mrs. Percy Alexander of Moody insured her election as president of the state auxiliary.

Gold star mothers elected Mrs. Amy Rosenkrantz of Rochester president. Additional officers named include:

Mrs. Alice Daggars of Binghamton, Mrs. Anna Shanahan of the Bronx, and Mrs. Mary Cook of Ossining, vice-presidents; Mrs. Louise Miller, Ossining, recording secretary.

TOWNSEND PLAN NEWS

No. 22

"SALES MEAN JOBS."

The following from the WEST SIDE INDUSTRIAL JOURNAL, Tulsa, Okla., seems very apropos for the Kingston Business Campaign now on. "There is a 'Sales Make Jobs' campaign on all over the country. It is a good slogan. Sales do make jobs. There is no doubt about that. But the slogan could also be reversed to 'Jobs Make Sales.' First, we should make it possible for everybody to have jobs. Then advertise and the merchants will have no trouble in making sales."

How are we going to create the jobs? By creating a purchasing power. How create a purchasing power? By putting enough money into a forced circulation each month to employ every able-bodied man in the United States under 60 years of age. How can we get this money into circulation? There is only one way, and that is to enact the Townsend Plan into law. This is a plan to collect a 2% tax on all transactions, put this amount into a revolving fund, then pay the elderly people of the United States over 60 years of age each month in proportion to the amount collected.

This is simply an annuity they have already earned. They must spend the entire amount each month before they receive another check. This will create more transactions and bring more money into the revolving fund of the U. S. Treasury. As more money is collected, the checks to the old people will become larger until they reach the maximum, $200 per month.

The Townsend Plan of taxation is the only plan ever devised to enable us to get our tax money back. The money simply revolves all the time. Like the rain that falls from the clouds, none of it is ever lost. The Townsend Plan will benefit the young people more than it will their grandparents. Everybody is saying, "Something must be done." That something is the Townsend Plan. What helps labor, helps business. Let's not get the heart broken by the government labor first, then advertise and business will be good.—Advt.

Noted Bandmaster
Conducts Williams
Symphonic Artists

With Arthur Pryor, one of America's foremost bandmasters, directing the second half of the program, the Ernest Williams Symphonic Band presented a fine concert at the Pine Grove auditorium Friday evening.

The concert began with Tchaikovsky's "March Slave," under the baton of Dr. Grant Connell, and from the opening note until the last sound had drifted away, the small audience heard a variety of concert which evidenced the excellent calibre of the Williams' musicians.

Following the "March Slave" came "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach, and Chabrier's "Espana Rhapsody." Donald Jacoby, cornetist with the Williams' Band for the past two years and a musician whose talents have become well-known to local music lovers, rendered "Rogers' Land of the Free," a new composition by Walter Rogers, famous cornet soloist. Jacoby's performance with the difficult arrangement brought forth much applause from the audience.

Eric W. G. Leiden, a member of the faculty of the Williams school, conducted the band as it played his own overture, "Holiday Springs," composed during the spring of the past year for the American Bandmasters' Association meeting in Milwaukee and dedicated to that organization.

The second half of the concert opened with "Triumph of Old Glory," written by Arthur Pryor and conducted by the noted bandmaster. Following this selection came "Il Guarany" by Gomez, and "The Whistler and His Dog," another of Pryor's compositions.

Warren Brown was the recipient of much applause because of his trombone solo work in "Love's Enchantment," and was called back by the audience for another selection. The "Jersey Shore March" and "Will Rogers," both compositions of Arthur Pryor, were the final selections listed on the program but the bandmaster acknowledged the appreciation of his audience by returning to the stage to lead the band in "El Capitan" and the "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Dr. Ernest S. Williams announced that Friday evening's performance would probably be the last for the band for this season at the Pine Grove auditorium, as the organization would be at Woodstock the following week, and the presentation of Williams' new opera Rip Van Winkle, would take place two weeks hence. Dr. Williams' opera is based on the romantic legend of Rip Van Winkle, and contains several songs for Rip, his sympathetic daughter, and his nagging and scolding wife. There will also be a chorus of men as Henry Hudson's crew of dwarfs.

Guillotin Not Inventor Of Decapitation Machine

Dr. Joseph Ignace Guillotin did not invent the guillotine and died peacefully in bed long after the French revolution, comments the Detroit Free Press.

Various means of inflicting the death penalty existed in different parts of France, at the time of the revolution, and what Doctor Guillotin did was to introduce in the Constituent assembly of 1789 a resolution providing that all capital punishment in France should be by decapitation and should be "executed by a machine."

The "machine" was perfected by a German harpsichord-maker by name of Schmidt but soon was popularly christened "guillotine."

The first decapitation machine is attributed to the ancient Persians.

Variations of it were employed during the Middle Ages in parts of Germany, Italy, France, Holland, Scotland, and England.

The gruesome glory which has so long attached in the mind of many people to a kindly French physician is thus effectively dispelled.

Azerbaijan Largely Moslem

Azerbaijan is a country, largely Moslem, consisting of most of the former Russian provinces of Baku and Yelavetpol. It has neighbors which do not agree to its territorial claims, but its boundaries are the Caspian sea on the east; Daghestan, Northern Caucasus and Georgia on the north; Georgia and Armenia on the west and Persia on the south. The capital of Azerbaijan is Baku, a city of 452,000, the center of the great oil district of the Caucasus. In 1917 Azerbaijan united with Armenia, Georgia and Transcaucasia in a federal republic. Disagreements arose and the federation broke up, Azerbaijan declaring itself independent in 1918. It calls itself the Azerbaijan Socialist Soviet Republic, and is one of the Russian Soviet family.

Most Useful Order

In the year 1763 Britain's king issued a proclamation requiring his American subjects who had made settlements on the western waters to return to their own colonies and all surveys to desist from further western surveying, on the ground that the land belonged to the Indians.

Contrast Bradley Barker with the versatile Miss Cram. Barker is no generalist. He's strictly a specialist. He barks for a living. Fact. More than likely you've heard him in the movies or on the radio. Barking, however, is only a part of his specialty. He can trumpet like an elephant, roar like a lion and squeal like a pig. He can imitate just about every known animal. Hence he is in constant demand whenever authentic animal noises are needed. He's willing to try anything. Movie and radio people, when they meet him on the street don't speak. They just bark. And Barker barks back.

Born on Long Island, Barker's parents used to take him to a farm a short distance upstate. He soon began to imitate a crowing rooster. The rest of the bawdiness animals followed. He spent 17 years in the silent movies. He imitated all the animal sounds in a popular series of jungle movies. He has a toy Boston bull named Chips and often when he goes into action, Barker's Chips is one puzzled dog.

Many Men Seek Janitor Job in Michael School

Several years ago when the civil service board would advertise an examination for the position of janitor in one of the public schools there would be but very few men who would file application, but today with working conditions such as now exist when a position is advertised there are plenty of applicants.

That fact is shown by inquiry at the office of the municipal civil service commission in the city hall this morning, when it was stated that at least 150 men had applied to take the examination for janitor of the new Michael School, and that number would be increased considerably. The position of engineer of the new school, there have been about 30 applications filed.

The last day for filing applications for either examination is Monday.

The examinations will be held next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Kingston High School, and the board estimated that approximately 200 men would be present that evening to take the examination. The education board is planning to appoint three janitors and one engineer for the new school. These men will be selected from the eligible list to be prepared by the civil service board as a result of the examinations next week. The examinations are limited to residents of Kingston.

Coffee Roaster Gets Tough Test Here

More than 100 pounds of freshly roasted coffee from the new machine now being demonstrated at Craft's Super Market, was sold during the shopping rush of yesterday, it was reported today, and the sales were said to be exceptionally heavy at the store this morning.

Coffee from the machine proved so popular with the customers, according to a clerk, that they were unable to fulfill all orders with the one machine now in the store. The machine, which was made by the Apollo Magneto Corp., roasts two pounds within 15 minutes.

The Craft market put the machine on display for the first time this week and is the first market in which it was placed. It is expected the device will be manufactured locally by the Apollo Magneto Corp.

Amateur Night Attracts Crowd

A record-breaking crowd attended the amateur community night program at Hasbrouck Park Friday night for the entertainment, sports and stunts arranged by the directors Burt Van Deusen and Ruth Nickerson.

The first three places in the amateur program were taken by the Hasbrouck Rangers, a group of boys who had formed an orchestra at the park; Miss Lillian Gill, tap dancer, and Robert Jones, also a tap dancer. Honorable mention was given to Miss Marge Brazier, former WHOM soloist, and to the Misses Gladys Heldron, Alice Williams and Hilda Dunham, who sang, accompanied by Robert Werner on the cornet. The Rangers, who presented a varied program of music, consisted of Ed Lucas, accordion, Edward Gill, harmonica, Roy Van Buren, drums, and Robert Gill, kazoo.

Preceding the entertainment program the boys in softball played a game of 4 to 3, under the leadership of Tom Long the men's team battled the park officers for a full game before finally succeeding in securing the winning run.

Horseshoes, ping pong, volleyball and another softball game were also included in the sports program. While the sports program was on, the children of the park were enjoying a treasure hunt, which took them through the many nature trails of the park and resulted in six finding the treasures which had been contributed by Mr. and Mrs. Long, who have charge of the refreshment stand.

Kelly Van Buren who secured the most points in the park's Olympics held last Monday received a box of candy contributed by the Derrbacher Sales Company.

Between the acts of the amateur program, the directors staged several stunts on the platform which had been erected in back of the pavilion. The first of these was a pie eating contest with huckleberry pie given by Fred's bakery. This was run in two "heats" with two boys and two girls chosen as the winners and in the final contest Miss Jacqueline Morgan won with Edward Gill a close second.

Another contest staged was the banana-eating contest in which seven 12-year-old boys and seven 11-year-old girls were each given a banana and blindfolded. With one hand behind the back, each tried to feed the banana to his partner. This contest was won by Joseph Mazzuca who told the audience over the microphone evidenced by Mike Amarello that he "liked bananas very much."

The program for next Friday night will feature Chuck Kelsie and his gang, who will have complete charge of the platform entertainment and whose program will be closed with movies by Henry Millonig, Jr. Preceding the program, a picnic will be held on the hill in which all are invited to bring their lunches and enjoy supper at the park.

Sixty cans of trout fingerling from the Summitville hatchery were received Friday morning at Kingston for distribution by the Ulster Fish and Game Association. They were distributed among the various streams in this section.

Nelson Snyder, president of the association, said that 60 more cans were to be delivered that afternoon, making 120 cans in all. This is double the number of cans that they had expected to receive. The fingerlings were said to be exceptionally fine fish, running three to four inches in length.

There were 90 cans of brown trout, the remainder being brook trout.

Mineral Resources Make Spain Real Treasure Chest

Spain is a treasure vault for many minerals, some with a long and sanguinary history.

More than 2,000 years ago, silver mines of Iberia (as Spain was then known) regularly employed 40,000 men.

It was the lure of precious metals then that drew explorers and generals to foreign shores. Spain, rich in silver and gold, was to the ancients what Peru and Mexico in the New World later became to the Conquistadores. Phoenicians, Carthaginians and Romans, in turn, swarmed to this peninsula, striving it of fortunes in metal.

One of the dramatic scenes of history was that triumph procession in Rome when Scipio, home from victorious campaigns on the Iberian peninsula, paraded the streets with chariots heaped with silver from ravaged Spain.

The treasure chest of them all, of course, is the Almaden district, in Ciudad Real, with nearly half of the world's supply of mercury.

More than 20 of Spain's 50 provinces contain among other deposits copper, lead, zinc, iron, coal and potash.

The Homely Octopus

Of all the ugly creatures found in the sea, the octopus must surely take first prize. Its appearance strikes terror into the minds of bathers, but it is only in looks that it is so offensive. It is harmless, and never has been capable of killing and devouring men, a feat described by Victor Hugo. It belongs to that class of animals known as the molluscs in which we find snails, oysters and other shellfish. Its food consists entirely of members of its own class, for, although some writers have stated that it feeds on fish, those who have made a study of this strange creature find that it feeds only on crabs, lobsters, oysters and other shellfish.

The Useful Bat

Bats frequently invade attics of houses. Although undesirable in houses, these creatures are really beneficial as they eat many destructive insects. They are nocturnal in habit, hiding during the day in secluded places. The first thing to control them is to find any opening by which they may be entering the house; and to close this up with either boards or wire netting. Recent experiments have indicated that bats do not like the fumes of naphthalene. It is suggested therefore that from 2 to 5 pounds of naphthalene flakes be scattered in the attic. If this remedy is tried, it should be carried out before the openings are closed up.

Threads of Life

It's odd. A man thinks his own will guides his own life. But the world is full of human lives; a man is bound to blunder into some of them, weave his own with them in dissolubly, or touch and drift away and touch again, or narrowly miss touching and maybe never know. The pattern is on the loom. And sometimes, looking back, you see a part of it. A thread weaves in and out and disappears; it is not broken but still weaving somewhere. Is it incidence when it appears again? Unknown or unconscious force,

Solomonic Advice on Pay

Peter the Great of Russia when asked what pay to give foreigners in Russia's service gave this Solomonic judgment: "To a Frenchman, good pay, for he is a man of pleasure who does not amass wealth, but spends what he earns. To Dutchman and to Italian, since they are very economical, less pay, for they live on little."

That Sheepish Feeling

"Why, pa, this is roast beef!" exclaimed little Willie at dinner one evening when a guest of honor was present. "Of course," said the father. "What of that?" "Why, you told me this morning that you were going to bring an old mutton-head home for dinner this evening."

Hollywood Sighs And Sounds

By Robbie Coon

HOLLYWOOD—This is Hollywood again, all right. Be gone a week, a month, a year. Come back, and the first day you can take up where you left off.

The usual stack of mail, including accumulated mountains of publicity copy. The usual preview notices, telephone messages.

On the streets, the usual scare heads: Lupe Again Seeks Divorce. (What, again?) Or maybe it's Joan and Tone part Or Somebody Else. And the usual impulse to hurry back and do a scored on the City of It All, or Why Can't Hollywood Marriages Endure (Impulse nobly resisted.) After all, when a movie marriage lasts, that's NEWS.

And the Richard Arlen have said their usual subject, with the Michael School, and that number would be increased considerably.

AND they're still casting "Gone With the Wind" and announcing a new starting date. Last one was September, new one is January. So next August or thereabouts we'll be seeing it—but Norma Shearer won't be in it. And while on the subject, which Hollywood usual—there's a Scottie test which knocked 'em for the loop. Of all people you'd not suspect, Frances Dee. They say she's just about perfect.

THE usual news, too, about Gloria Swanson. She is NOT going to make "Lady in the News" for Republic. She is NOT going to make anything for Republic. This makes Gloria the signing-out of movie stars. She signed with Metro, Columbia, Republic in turn and hasn't made a picture yet. Understood here she'll do a New York play—which might make her a lady-in-the-news again. Meanwhile the movie script, originally planned for Frieda Inescort, but revised for Swanson, is being revised again for Inescort.

The usual time changes. "Cavivar" will be "The World's Applause" because the producers fear the man in the street would think the new George Raft or a foreign flicker. Fear also the same man in the street wouldn't know what cavivar is.

And the customary "big excitement"—this time Uncle Sam's legal look-see into the picture business—about which the rank and file of Hollywood aren't concerned in the least, although the big shots are plenty annoyed. Hollywood isn't really Hollywood unless it has "big excitement."

It's Hollywood again, all right. And if this doesn't sound properly bored, the act has failed. It was an act, you know, because like most of the scribbles who pretend to be bored with Hollywood I can't think of a place I'd rather be.

Cab-Over-Engine Truck Is Coming

Operating over a three-star test route during a 30-day period, a Ford cab-over-engine truck, newest addition to this year's Ford line, will stop in Kingston Monday afternoon. This run is being made with the cooperation of the Gulf Oil Corp. and Gulf products will be used exclusively. An open invitation has been extended to the public to inspect the truck, which is expected to arrive about 5 o'clock at the show rooms of James Millard & Son, local Ford dealer, opposite the central post office.

The cab-over-engine truck left Long Island City on a one month's efficiency run. The route embraces 140 New York cities, 61 in Connecticut and 167 in New Jersey. The course was selected carefully to insure a wide variety of road, traffic and driving conditions. The nature of the course provides ample opportunity to secure a complete check of fuel economy, hill climbing, under load, handling ease and all other factors in truck performance. The majority of points can be reached only after traveling over miles of back country dirt roads. The run ends in Brooklyn.

The truck is carrying a gross load of 11,000 pounds throughout the entire run. A day-by-day record is kept of fuel consumption, running time between cities, water consumption and all other data of interest and value to truck owners and truck drivers.

Mr. Millard invited anyone interested in inspecting this unit to their show rooms in the evening, where it will be on display. There will also be some very interesting motion pictures shown and refreshments will be served.

Chemistry Turns To Millinery And Produces This Cartwheel

Chemistry has taken a hand in the making of this summer's chapeaux. Now you see one made of a thin, shiny sheet of plastic—honey colored and opaque. A bow and chin strap of white grosgrain ribbon fall under the brim.

Serving Punches That Are Tart Will Help Liquidate A Heat Wave

Grapefruit, lime and lemon juices are combined in a refreshing Pensacola Punch. Sweetened raspberry juice may be used in place of the lime juice for brighter color.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

AP Feature Service Writer

Don't throw away juices left from cans of fruit. You can use them in your summer thirst-quenchers.

Every smart summer hostess is on the lookout for new and tangy fruit-juice combinations. For she will fill the punch bowl with them time and again in the next few weeks.

What juices make the best summer drinks? There are many. Some may be served alone, sweetened a bit and thoroughly chilled. Others are delicious in combinations.

Apple, apricot, grape, strawberry, pineapple, grapefruit—these are a few.

Bear in mind that tart drinks are the best thirst-satisfiers. Try this Fruit Chill in your punch bowl: Boil together for two minutes two cups of granulated sugar, and two cups of boiling water. Cool. Add two cups of orange juice, one cup of pineapple juice, one cup of strawberry juice and half a cup of lemon juice. Chill until serving time.

Then combine with two quarts of iced water and with two quarts of chilled ginger ale. Quickly pour into a bowl which contains a large cake of ice.

Have you ever made a smash? Any frozen fruit juice added to any fruitade—with or without ginger ale—may be called a smash.

A Smash Hint
Here's one receipt you can vary to include any of your favorite combinations:

Boil together for two minutes two cups of granulated sugar and two cups of boiling water. Cool. Add two cups of pineapple juice, one cup of apricot juice, one cup of orange juice and a third of a cup of lemon juice. Pour into a tray in the mechanical refrigerator (or into a regular freezer) and let stand until mushy. Then quickly add to two cups of iced water and two quarts of ginger ale.

Serve your smash in tall glasses which have been half filled with chopped ice. Top each glass with mint leaves, red cherries and small balls of pineapple or apricot sherbet. You'll have a regal heat-chaser.

Fruity Ice Cubes
Have you ever thought of adding blackberry cubes to plain old-fashioned lemonade? They are delicious and are very easy to freeze.

All you have to do is mix two cups of berries with one cup of water and half a cup of sugar. Boil for one minute. Cool and strain. Then pour the juice into a refrigerator tray and freeze it. When you get tired of blackberry cubes try cherry, grape, blueberry or apricot cubes. And experiment with them in other drinks than lemonade.

Small fruits, berries and dried fruits—frozen—give a dainty flavor when used to garnish punches. Frozen ginger ale broken into particles is also a delicious addition to punch or chilled drinks served in individual glasses.

Pensacola Punch

(Fills 25 Punch Cups)

1½ cups granulated sugar
2 cups water
2 cans grape juice
1½ cup lemon juice
3 cups lime juice

Boil sugar and water together for five minutes (to make a simple syrup for sweetening). Add fruit juices and chill thoroughly. Pour over cracked ice in a punch bowl and serve in punch cups. Garnish with canned grapefruit segments, green cherries and fresh mint sprigs.

Insulation A Summer Blessing

If you're investing in an ice box or cooking range, be sure to buy one of the modern ones insulated with mineral wool. This material does double-duty in regulating the temperature of your kitchen. In the summer it retains the cold, helping to keep your perishable foods in perfect condition. In cooking ranges it holds the heat, saving you a lot of hot and angry moments over your pots and pans. This marvelous material can also be used to insulate your entire house, keeping it delightfully cool in midsummer and warm as toast in January. Your local architect or contractor will tell you how this can be done.

Frozen foods were known in colonial days as well as now. During the winter, housewives baked large supplies of pies, then froze and stored them, to be thawed out as needed.

Pike's Peak Editor Gets Her Fun Reviving The Climbers Who Faint

By The AP Feature Service

Atop Pike's Peak, Colo.—A girl has brought newspaper rivalry to bald old Pike's Peak. Until this summer the Pike's Peak Daily News, founded 42 years ago, was supreme.

Now there is the Pike's Peak Daily Herald, too. Its editor is Ruth Morehouse, 16, daughter of Ward Morehouse, playwright and columnist for the New York Sun. The two papers serve the 200,000-odd visitors who ascend the famous mountain every summer. These pay 15 cents each for copies containing their names, which are taken from the Peak's visitors' register.

Shirley Was 'Big News'

Miss Morehouse pounds out news copy in the old cog road station, competing with Orle and Ben Stewart, owners of the News. Their offices are in a new highway station 100 yards away.

Besides the names, the newspapers print "hot news" that "breaks" on the peak. News originating any place else is ignored. The biggest break this year was the visit of Shirley Temple. Last year it was the presence of Alf Landon at a dinner given by Sanford Jarrell, publisher of the Herald, and Ruth's stepfather.

Ambition: Ballet Dancer

"It's ever so much fun," Ruth says of her job. "You meet such interesting people and so many of them."

"Do you plan to adopt journalism as a career?"

"Oh, no. But it's interesting."

She plans to be a ballet dancer; thinks it's more fun and more interesting.

Her most exciting task, she says, is reviving people who faint from the altitude when they reach the top.

"We give them ammonia and it brings them around," she explains.

Courtesy's No Ice Cake, But It Helps You Cool Off

By JOAN DURHAM

AP Feature Service Writer

There's no slack season in good behavior.

Sultry summer days should be an incentive to it, if anything, even though you don't feel up to par. There are a number of things we can do to help each other keep comfortable.

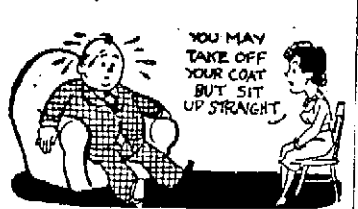

The hostess, for example, will suggest on a hot day that men guests remove their coats if she senses they would like to do so. If she doesn't suggest it, it's perfectly all right, under fairly informal circumstances, for them to ask permission to do so. Naturally, they shouldn't ask permission on such occasions as formal dinner parties. Nor should they let the coat-removing habit hold over when temperatures drop to comfortable levels.

Don't Be a Loller

Neither the hostess nor her guests will take summer informality as an excuse to loiter all over the place in extremely informal positions in extremely informal attire. Lolling never kept anybody cool.

Other hot-weather hints:

To the ladies: Don't take off your shoes in public. Buy comfortable shoes and keep them on. And don't roll your hose down below the skirt line.

To the men: It's all right to mop your brow when occasion demands. But don't forget to have on hand a supply of clean handkerchiefs if you're going to need them.

A Word to the Young

To the younger generation: Watch your behavior in the park and on the beach. Reserve your good-night kisses for privacy.

To guests who visit in localities where there is lots of swimming: Don't sit in your wet bathing suit anywhere except on the beach or in places the water won't ruin.

Rose and Sky Blue

Paris (AP)—Among summer evening dresses is a sky blue piguet trimmed with dark red roses. This was designed for Mlle. Eve Curia by Vera Borea.

HOMESPUN FARN

Growing boys and girls who are above the average in weight may expect a longer life than under-weight boys or girls.

Herodotus, Greek historian, says that Egyptian laborers used to knead clay with their hands while kneading dough with their feet.

"Chevrolet" is the name given to glove leather made of the skins of young goats that are old enough to eat grass, but too old to be classed as "kid."

Irradiated evaporated milk can be stored for from two to three years under moderate temperature changes, with little or no loss in the vitamin D strength, according to recent research.

A pound of small prunes is a "better buy" than a pound of the more costly ones, if appearance doesn't count, because the large pits in the big ones cause the actual amount of pulp in the two sizes to be about the same.

A booklet that tells how to remove spots and stains is a good thing to have on hand during the picnic season. Single copies of "Spot and Stain Removal," Cornell bulletin E-356, are sent free on request from the Office of Publication, Roberts Hall, Ithaca, New York.

So You're Going To College: Then Watch Your Hands

While you study your bridge cards, the rest of the players will have an awfully good chance to study your hands.

By BETTY CLARKE

(AP Feature Service Writer)

So you're going to college.

First impressions are very important. Make yours count.

It takes time for the upper-classmen to appreciate your mind and personality. But they may not bother to investigate if you don't look as if you were worth the trouble.

At the top of the list of details in good grooming are your hands. When you pick up your cards in that after-dinner game of bridge, hearts or continental rummy, the other players will take a look at your hands.

Don't count on an occasional before-the-dance manicure to do the job. Form the habit of fixing your nails at least once a week.

It's simple. Here's one way: 1. Remove the old polish with a bit of cotton dipped in an oily polish remover. Use your orange stick to get into the creases.

2. Shape your nails with a steel file, first, then with an emery board. Round, rather than pointed, tips are best for young women like you.

3. Now for the cuticle. Wrap some cotton around the end of the orange stick and dip it into an oily cuticle remover. Work it into the sides and base of the nail.

4. Apply your nail white pencil under the tips of your nails.

5. Scrub your nails with a fairly stiff brush and dry them thoroughly, removing any more loose cuticle you may find. (You may have to use scissors, but don't let that more than is necessary.)

6. Apply your polish all over the nail, unless you prefer to leave the half-moon at the base free. If you don't want the polish to cover the tips of your nails, wipe it off them with cleansing tissue.

Dip your cotton-tipped orange stick into the polish remover and trace around the cuticle for polish that overflows.

Next: Hints on classroom chic.

Helps for Housewives

Melons should be served ice cold. Do not try to chill them by filling them with chopped ice.

Chill the melon thoroughly in the refrigerator and serve it as quickly as possible after it is cold. You may put a little ice around the outside, if you like, to help keep it chilly.

Always store matches in a covered tin box or pail—out of reach of small children and away from heated pipes or stoves. Be sure your matches are extinguished before you discard them. Never light matches in closets, garages or poorly-ventilated places.

Paris Using Prints

Paris (AP)—Prints are being played up for summer fete, afternoon and evening. Countess Jean de Castellane goes in for a navy printed pattern on white ground, the Countess de Montgomerie for a white pattern on navy ground, both models for afternoon. Among striking evening prints is a white satin printed with large bouquets of mixed-color flowers, and a shantung dress brilliantly patterned in multi-color. These are Lelong models.

Work Relief in the Kitchen

One good way to whet your own appetite in the summer and keep your temper cool during the coming hot spells is to minimize work in the kitchen. This can be done by substituting paper china for your winter table ware. Paper china plates come in dinner, salad and butter sizes. The most attractive of these are plain white with wide borders in duobonnet, green, brown, blue and Chinese red, which can be used with matching crepe paper napkins. Waterproof paper table mats with gay floral designs are summer indispensables. These mats can be washed and used many times.

Pretty Girls Make Swell Drum Majors —If They've Studied Enough In School

Major Booth, teacher

By The AP Feature Service

Chicago—Let no lassie who wants to be a drum major think that all she needs is to smile prettily and to kick high.

There's a big demand for girl drum majors—it's almost a craze—but anyone who wants to get in on it has to work hard. That's what they do at a school run by Major William Booth here.

Booth, ex-marine and claimant of the world's baton twirling championship, has been baton-twirling for 45 years. He finds girls are just as good at baton-twirling as boys. Attaining perfection, he says, depends on an individual's agility—and plenty of practice.

It's easier when they start young, he says; his last batch of pupils included an 11-year-old girl and a 10-year-old lad. Mildred Douglas, 19, of Evanston, Ill., who is the national girl baton-twirling champion, took tips from him. She challenges anyone and says she is going after the men's title, too.

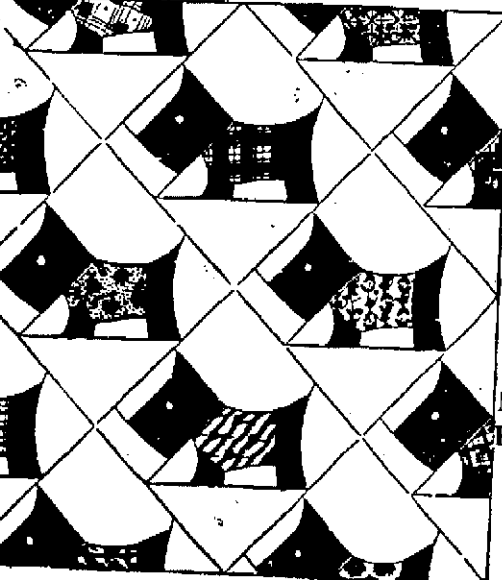

Booth believes in having his pupils dress the part, and they go through their drills in fancy drum major costumes. It improves their spirit, he says.

Booth is called "Major" because, he explains, that is the honorary title of a marine band leader.

Putting on the dog is quite permissible and lots of fun, too, when it's this Scottie quilt you are making. OFFICE CAT

The drunk in the gutter is a pitiful sight. However, he is much safer than the one behind the steering wheel.

The hard-driving taxi-driver ignored a red signal, threatened the policeman's knees, and grazed a bus, all in one dash. The policeman halted him, then stroled over to the taxi, pulling a big handkerchief from his pocket en route. Policeman (growling)—Listen, cowboy! On the way back, I'll drop this and see if you can pick it up with your teeth.

Another Law of Averages: Drive while drinking and its an average of three days until the funeral.

Judge—What is the verdict of the jury?
Foreman of the Jury—We find the defendant not guilty of hitting the pedestrian with an automobile, your honor, but we recommend that he be warned not to do it again.

Wet Measure: Two pints 1 quart, 2 quarts one gallon, one gallon 2 quarts, 2 quarts 1 gallon, 1 gallon 2 quarts.

Speaking of prospects, how will this do?
Father—Isn't it time you were entertaining the prospect of matrimony?

Daughter—Not quite, Dad. He won't be here until 9 o'clock—he loaned his car to his sister.

There is nothing quite so pitiful as a doddering old goat with a powerful roadster who thinks it is impossible for the pretty girls to resist him and his car.

Motorist—Is this car worth repairing?

Mechanic—Yes, indeed. I can put a new motor in it, and a new body and chassis in. The horn seems to be all right.

An automobile fashion authority says that the new cars are coming out with new wrinkles in fenders. But what motorists want are cars with fenders without wrinkles. They'll get the wrinkles soon enough.

This interesting item is from the Altoona, Pa., Tribune:
"The bride tottered up the aisle on the arm of her father, who was wheeled in his invalid chair by three grandsons. She was dressed in white and carried a big bouquet of white roses. Her hair, though gray, was neatly bobbed, and she smiled and nodded to her friends who had gathered. The bridegroom was just able to walk unaided, with the assistance of a handsome pair of mahogany crutches. His false teeth chattered a little nervously. They were the couple who had waited until they could afford to get married."

Electrician—Catch hold of them wires.
Assistant—I've got 'em, what now?
Electrician—Feel anything?
Assistant—No.
Electrician—Well, don't dare touch the other one, it carries two thousand volts of electricity and will kill you instantly.

The modern girl is a vision in the evening and a sight in the morning.

Voice on the Telephone—My son will not be able to come to school today; he has a cold.
Teacher—Very well, sir. Who is speaking?
Voice—My father, sir.

When a man doesn't like to mow the lawn he can find plenty of good and valid reasons why the dawn should wait.

At an amateur show one budding star imitated a well-known actor who had consented to appear at the performance. Afterwards the amateur tackled the professional:

Amateur—Would you mind telling me what you think of my abilities as shown by my impersonation of you?
Actor (cheerfully)—Well, one of us is awful.

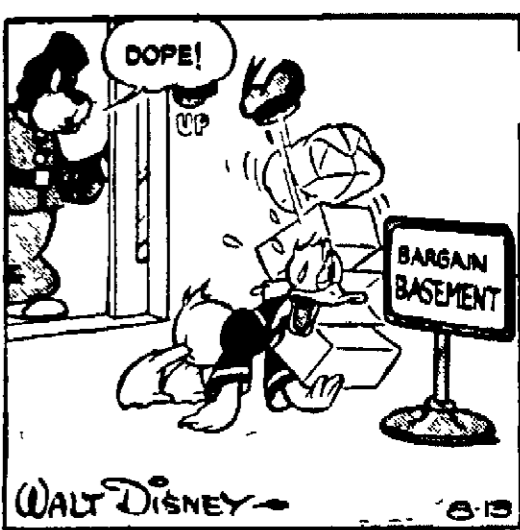

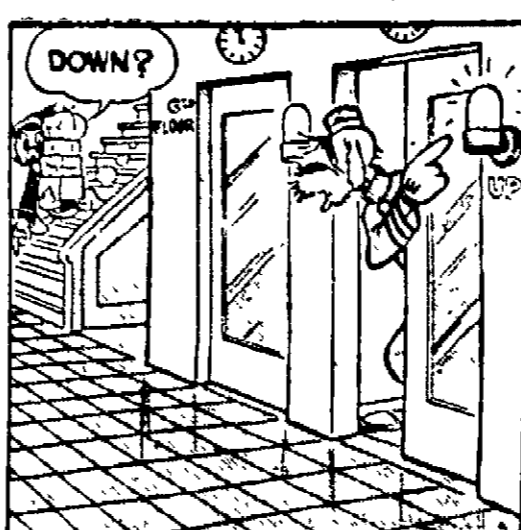

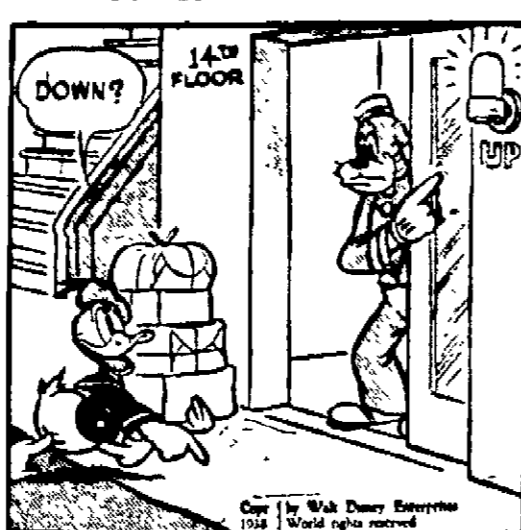

Some authors can turn out a story a day on their tripewriter.

Don't Wait for "Rainy Day"

Don't wait for a rainy day to see that your home is protected by a tight roof, is the advice of roofing experts, with the summer rains in the offing. Too many home-owners, they declare, do not realize the deficiency of their roofs until the surfaces are put to the test of severe storms. Mineral-surfaced asphalt shingles may be applied over the old roof, with no necessity for ripping off the former material, eliminating the usual mess both inside and outside the home.

Storace Wins 2nd Decision; Midget Races Sunday Afternoon

Prims Sempervino
s Benny Leonard
Referees Main Go
Crowd Out

500 Watch Trovattello and Raigins Win and Cheer Ex-Champ as He Officialates at Auditorium

Cory Storace, the Rome Jump-
Jack, made it No. 2 over Sempervino, former Hawn Island champion, Friday night in the main bout on the card of boxing matches refereed by Benny Leonard, retired undefeated lightweight champion of the world, at the municipal auditorium before approximately 1,500 flustered fans.

The assemblage of fight fans, one of the largest since the Carnival of Champions last year, heard Storace's line of stories about his opponent, and laughed at the bits of humor he put into his brief before going to work as referee.

Although the retired champ came here to look over the ring for prospects, along with favoring the Kingston A. C. with his presence as a box office attraction, he was unimpressed by Vince Sempervino, the Schenectady welterweight whom many thought would make a hit with Benny.

Last night, Sempervino, fighting a return go with Cory Storace, endeavored to square matters for himself on the jumping Jack won a Troy a month ago, bowed to the little Roman for the second time. Sempervino could not seem to get going until late in the fourth and fifth rounds, and let Storace steal the lead away from him with his left-hand tactics.

Sammy Trovattello, the pride of Poughkeepsie, outpointed Don Aiken, stablemate of Storace, in the semi-final of five rounds, punishing him with hard rights and forcing him to give ground all the time. The weights were Trovattello, 115, Aiken, 112.
Substituting for Hank Buncie, Patsy Motto of Albany gave Charlie Raigins, the Saugerties bomber, a tough battle, for three rounds then weakened because of poor condition, and the Honeyboy got the decision.

Motto's left jabs bothered Raigins in the early part of the battle, but the game little Saugerties scraper's physical condition improved him through and when Patsy became exhausted and found it hard to stab him with his southpaw, the bomber rolled up his winning edge.

Bill Singer refereed the preliminaries then turned over the job to Benny Leonard for the last two scraps. Their meeting in the two was the occasion for a bit of ceremony, the veteran star of the squared circle repeating some of the incidents that happened when they were kids in New York.

Announcer Sam Riber did an exceptionally good job of presenting Leonard, and Benny got a great reception.

Other Results

Guy Corrado, 152, Mechanicville, outpointed Corky Dulgarian, Monroe slugger, in five round scrap.

Highland, in five rounds.

vena, in five rounds.

Harty were judges. Gene Harson was timekeeper. Sam Riber

FAIR

Pears to Exceed Area Fruit Crop

Albany, N. Y., August 12 (AP).—This is an "off" season for virtually all New York state fruit production except pears, the state and federal agricultural department's said in a joint report today.

The state apple crop was estimated at 15,435,000 bushels, compared with 24,340,000 bushels last year and the ten-year average of 17,125,000.

Frequent rains in recent weeks were cited as a handicap in the Hudson river valley, where heavy production is expected, while western and northern New York, with a lighter crop, were free of insects and disease.

Production forecasts and comparisons with last year included: Apples—1,173,000 bu., compared with 1,806,000 last year. Pears—1,820,000 bu. and 1,305,000.

Crabapples—38,800 tons and 59,100. May—5,020,000 tons and 5,703,000. Potatoes—27,250,000 bu. and 28,375,000.

The report said the Mexican locust beetle "threatens to cause widespread damage to many fields of beans unless checked."

While potato indications in general were favorable, the report called attention to "considerable danger of blight, since the weather has greatly favored its development."

Lightning Destroys House
Lightning is attributed as being the cause of the fire which destroyed an unoccupied eight room house on the property of Mrs. Wilber Daily at Mink Hollow last Monday night. The building was only partially insured and was completely destroyed.

MARLBOROUGH

Marlborough, Aug. 13.—Work on Birdsall avenue in the village continues to progress, and work the past week has been mostly centered on the fill in the highway between the John Amodeo and W. R. Griener property.

The new alignment is taking a considerable portion of the Amodeo land and a smaller portion of the Griener land. Due to a bad curve at that point it was necessary to take more land in order to straighten the road. A ditch has been dug entirely across the road and large tile pipes are being laid to carry off the surface water. Trojano's wrecker was used to lift the huge tile conduits and drop them into place.
The pipes weigh 1,200 pounds each. The WPA is doing all the labor by hand power.

The Marlborough Central School Board met last week, and the board authorized the payment of interest due on bonds. They also decided to ask for bids for furnishing fill for the lands for the school grounds. Only one bid was received by the board on Wednesday. Attilio Dallvechia is aiding in the work of filling in at the front of the school. In spite of the hot weather, a great deal has been accomplished. C.
C. DuMont is the architect in charge of the landscaping.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rusk have returned to their home on the North Road after a two weeks' vacation spent in the northern part of the state.

On Sunday in the Amity Chapel the sermon was delivered by the Rev. George M. MacDonald, pastor of St. Mark's Congregational Church, Brooklyn. Special music was furnished by the Young People's Choir of the Church of Our Savior, Newburgh.

The Rev. Pietro S. Moncada of Newburgh was in charge as usual.
Nicholas Kulay of New York city has purchased the old Poyer farm at West Marlborough for the sole purpose of raising four-leaf clovers. He is having land prepared for this purpose at the present time and soon a new agricultural product will be added to this section. The so-called four-leaf clover is to be used in making a distinctive label for a brand of the Wilkins family whiskey marketed by the producers of the Schenley products. In order to give the bottles of this blend an individual appearance, the producers will have a natural four-leaf clover enclosed in a cellophane triangle-shaped souvenir which is to be attached to the neck of each bottle. A tenant has moved to the Poyer farm, which has been used as a summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lynch, who have since returned to Brooklyn. Mr. Kulay may spend a considerable portion of his summers here.

Approximately 250 persons were fed at the annual clam bake sponsored by the men of the Presbyterian Church recently. The exact amount is not yet known, but it is fully expected by the general chairman, Robert Cole, and the ticket chairman, Edward L. Dalby, that a splendid sum will be realized.

On Saturday from eleven until five, a food sale was sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America in the store of Charles Lester.
Mrs. Miles Doyle was in charge of the arrangements, and was assisted by the other members of the court.

(Joseph Dallvechia has been constructing a driveway from the state highway Route 9-W, to the front of the premises of Miss Agnes E. Wilson, of Milton.

Edward Cumskey and daughter Katherine spent Sunday in New Palz where they visited relatives.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Frank DeGeorge and sons, Frank, Jr., and Charles, and the Misses Helen and Josephine Orlano motored to Edenville where they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Alex DeGeorge, of New York city, who are anchored in the Rondout creek at Edenville on their cruiser for two weeks.

Mrs. Van Allen Salisbury has returned to her home here after spending the past two weeks in Catskill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Michael Ruzick and family. Her granddaughter returned home with her for a visit of two weeks.

During the month of August, there will be no meeting of the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church. The next regu-
